Careers with the Office of Chief Counsel Internal Revenue Service.

A GREAT PLACE TO START

http://jobs.irs.gov/mn-attorney.html
The perfect starting point.

There may be other directions in which to begin your legal career as a tax lawyer, but none as unique as the Office of Chief Counsel. We are the law firm for the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), and we are, in fact, the largest tax law firm in the country. Our work is diverse, challenging and important, and it touches American finance in the broadest terms: from conglomerates, corporations and partnerships...to charitable institutions and small businesses...to families and individuals. It impacts the fiscal fabric of our nation’s government and the strongest free-market economy in the world.

The professionals who join us are as special as the roles they assume. They possess a sharp eye and a sharper mind. They are dedicated and a step ahead, and they all soon realize this about joining the Office of Chief Counsel — it is a great place to start.

Dear Prospective Applicant:

I have worked in a wide variety of positions since I began my career, more than thirty years ago, with the Office of Chief Counsel. I have been both an associate and a partner in a law firm, a partner in a Big Six accounting firm and an Assistant to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Now I’m back leading the Office where I began my legal career. What has stayed with me throughout this journey has been the wonderful foundation in the tax law that I gained during my first stint in the Office of Chief Counsel, an experience that I believe cannot be found anywhere else. It opened many doors for me and certainly enriched my professional life beyond expectations. Truly, the Office of Chief Counsel was a great place to start!

I would like to offer you the same opportunity I had. The Office of Chief Counsel is the largest tax law office in the country. It has tax work that presents many career enhancing challenges, from involvement in precedent setting litigation having far reaching impact to working on fundamental changes to the tax laws which will enhance our nation’s economy for years to come. We are looking for the best and the brightest to bring initiative, energy, and inquisitive minds to the Office of Chief Counsel. In return, we will give you unique and meaningful legal work which can propel your career to the highest level — just look at what some of the individuals highlighted in the brochure who began their legal careers here have accomplished.

Come join us and see what I mean — the Office of Chief Counsel is indeed “A Great Place to Start.”

Sincerely,

Donald L. Korb
Chief Counsel

IRS CHIEF COUNSEL

The IRS Chief Counsel is a great place to start because you can have:

• an unparalleled legal experience in our nation’s capital often involving projects resulting in fundamental changes to tax law through regulations, rulings, and legislation
• the ability to become involved in litigation early in one’s career at one of our many litigation offices located throughout the country
• exposure to cross agency issues working with the Department of Treasury, the IRS, the Department of Justice and others involving sensitive tax matters
• opportunities to develop expertise and sharpen technical skills at the agency which is at the center of cutting-edge tax issues
• unique experiences to help build a solid foundation for your career in tax

All of which can open doors for you later in your career and allow you to aspire to follow in the footsteps of any of the lawyers who you will meet as you read this brochure.

Pamela F. Olson

After graduating from the University of Minnesota Law School, Pam Olson joined the San Diego District Counsel Office as a tax attorney. She held several positions with the Office of Chief Counsel before leaving in 1986 to practice at Stakelkin, Apps, State, Meagher & Flom, LLP. She was appointed Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Treasury for Tax Policy in 2001 and was elevated to Assistant Secretary of the Treasury for Tax Policy in 2002. She returned to Stakelkin, Apps in 2004 where she is currently a partner in their Tax Group in Washington. Pam served as a tax advisor to the National Commission on Economic Growth and Tax Reform in 1995, served on the Board of Trustees of the American Tax Policy Institute, and serves on the Board of Directors of Tax Analysts. She was also the first woman to serve as Chair of the American Bar Association Section of Taxation. She was named to the Tax Business magazine’s “Tax Business 50”, a listing of the world’s most influential individuals in tax.

Donald L. Korb

We are very proud that our current Chief Counsel got his start here. He spent the first four years of his career as an attorney advisor in the Chief Counsel’s office. In the mid-1980s, he returned to the IRS as an Assistant to then Commissioner Roscoe Riger, and was overall coordinator of the Service’s involvement in the legislative process that resulted in the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

In private practice, he was a partner with the Cleveland-based firm of Thompson Hine LLP and also with Coopers & Lybrand LLP. Don served as a tax advisor to the National Commission on Economic Growth and Tax Reform in 1995, and has been a Vice Chair of the American Bar Association Section of Taxation. He knows how important teamwork and camaraderie are to an organization and encourages new lawyers to gain broad experience through varied assignments working with acknowledged tax experts.

STARTING WITH IRS CHIEF COUNSEL

A variety of employment opportunities geared to your education and experience.

Chief Counsel Honors Program

The IRS Chief Counsel Honors Program is designed for third-year law students, recent J.D. graduates, graduating LLM students and judicial law clerks. This program allows lawyers to begin their careers as law clerks at the Office of Chief Counsel before becoming members of the Bar. Entry-level positions allow you to acquire significant training and experience in tax law upon graduation. Honors Program positions at the IRS Office of Chief Counsel are open to those who have superior academic qualifications or relevant experience to the work of Chief Counsel. Appointments under the Honors Program are made at a grade GS-12, Step II for J.D. applicants and a GS-12, Step 4 for LLM applicants. We expect newly appointed attorneys to remain for a period of three years, unless released from their employment commitment by the Office. Recruitment bonuses and payment of travel for call back interviews may also be available for exceptionally qualified candidates.

Summer Legal Intern Program

The Summer Legal Intern Program is available for first- and second-year law students in the IRS Office of Chief Counsel, National Office in Washington, DC and select cities. This program provides exposure to the Office of Chief Counsel by enabling law students to work for the Office under the supervision and with the assistance of experienced tax lawyers. The training and work experience helps prepare interns for a career as a tax lawyer and also provides an excellent view of what the practice of law is like in the Office of Chief Counsel. Officers of full-time employment may be made to some second-year summer interns at the conclusion of the program. These summer positions are available at the GS-7 and GS-9 grade levels. Selections for the Summer Intern Program are made on a rolling basis from September through February, until all positions are filled. Early applications are encouraged. First-year students should not apply before December 15.

Volunteer Legal Externship Program

(Direct Program)

During the academic year, volunteer positions are available in various Chief Counsel offices throughout the country for a limited number of highly qualified law students on a volunteer basis, subject to the approval of their law schools. Externs work for a variety of positions on a part-time basis, subject to the approval of their law schools. Externs work in the National Office or in field offices with Chief Counsel employees on a variety of educationally-related work assignments, and provide legal assistance to attorneys. This program provides opportunities for law students to gain practical work experience while gaining a familiarity with the Chief Counsel organization and our work.

Lateral Program

The Lateral Program is for attorneys who have graduated from an American Bar Association accredited law school and have more than one year of professional legal experience. Attorneys generally range from GS-12 to GS-14, depending upon experience. Attorneys with one year of general legal or tax experience qualify for the GS-12. Generally, attorneys with two or three years of tax experience qualify for grades 13 or 14, respectively. The Office hires attorneys each year under this program by advertising specific positions to be filled.

Jerry Reinsdorf

Jerry Reinsdorf, the primary owner of the Chicago White Sox and the Chicago Bulls, got his start at the Office of Chief Counsel after receiving his Law degree from Northwestern University. After a few years, he left Counsel to become a tax lawyer in private practice. While looking for good investments for his tax clients, he became interested in the real estate market. In 1971, with a group of investors, he created one of the earliest public real estate limited partnerships. He went on to start a real estate syndication company, Balco, which he and his partners sold to American Express in 1987. He and his group purchased the Chicago White Sox and Comiskey Park in 1989, and a controlling interest in the Chicago Bulls in 1985. Since then, the team has won three NBA championships and five World Series titles. He has been the Chairman of the Chicago Bulls, and the team has won six World Championships in 1991, 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997 and 1998.

Ronald A. Pearlman

Ron Pearlman, professor of law at Georgetown University Law Center and a nationally known expert in federal tax policy, began his career at the Office of Chief Counsel, after earning his J.D. from Northwestern and LL.M. in Taxation from Georgetown. His career has spanned the public and private sectors, and academia.

As Assistant Secretary of the Treasury for Tax Policy in the mid-1980s, he developed tax reform proposals that were the foundation for the Tax Reform Act of 1986. In 1988 he was appointed Chief of the Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation. He practiced law at Thompson & Mitchell in St. Louis for 15 years and, more recently, at Covington and Burling in Washington. In 1999 he joined the faculty at the Georgetown University Law Center.

Start a great career at Chief Counsel.

Sheldon S. Cohen
Sheldon Cohen started at Chief Counsel after he graduated with highest honors from George Washington Law School. One of the world’s leading tax lawyers, he has held many important positions in his career, including Chief Counsel and Commissioner of the IRS. When President Lyndon Johnson appointed him Commissioner, he was the youngest person ever appointed to that position.

He has been affiliated with several law firms, most recently as senior counsel with Morgan, Lewis & Bockius. He has also assisted the United Nations in creating tax systems for developing countries. He was adjunct professor at George Washington Law School and a member of the University’s Board of Trustees for more than 20 years.

Larry Langdon
Larry Langdon is one of the leading tax attorneys in the country with a specialty in tax controversy and planning. He started his career at Chief Counsel after graduating from Ohio State University College of Law in 1961.

In the late 1960s, he joined Ford Motor Company as a Senior Tax Attorney. He then worked for AT&T as Director of Taxes and Corporate Secretary and for Hewlett-Packard as Vice President, General Transition, Manager, and Vice President, Tax Licensing and Customs. In 1999, he returned to federal service as the past Commissioner of the IRS Large & Mid-Size Business Division. In 2003, he returned to private practice, as a partner with Mayer, Brown, Rowe & Maw LLP in Palo Alto.
SALARY AND BENEFITS

Getting to the bottom line.

Among the benefits and advantages of assuming a position with the Office of Chief Counsel is the opportunity to excel in a work culture that is more than the sum of its parts. Here, you will find a commitment to provide a balance to your working and personal life...and the ability to offer many benefits that are every bit as competitive as those available at leading private sector firms. In fact, more often than not, our benefits exceed private sector offerings.

For instance, consider the following:

Salary at Entry Level

Appointments under the Honors Program are made at a GS-11, Step 8 for J.D. applicants and a GS-12, Step 4 for LL.M. applicants (see enclosed salary table). Recruitment bonuses and payment of travel for call back interviews may also be available for exceptionally qualified candidates.

Promotion Policy

Attorneys appointed at GS-11 or GS-12 are eligible for promotion to the next higher grade annually. A GS-14 represents the level that can be reached via annual promotion. Promotion to higher grades is based on merit.

Locality Pay

Locality pay is reviewed and adjusted on a regular basis dependent on local labor market conditions.

Awards Program

The Office of Chief Counsel has a generous awards program. Employees may receive cash awards for superior performance or special achievements.

Annual & Sick Leave

You will start out by earning four hours of annual leave and four hours of sick leave every two weeks. After three years, you will earn six hours of annual leave every two weeks. After 15 years, you will earn eight hours of annual leave every two weeks.

Flexible Work Schedules

You may be able to take advantage of flexible or compressed work schedules. You may also elect to earn credit hours. Once earned, employees can use credit hours to be absent from work for short periods of time for personal reasons.

Holiday Leave

There are ten paid holidays annually. The President of the United States may also declare other holidays in recognition of special events.

Retirement Plan

The Federal Employees’ Retirement System provides a basic government pension, social security coverage and a thrift savings plan which is similar to a private sector 401(k) plan.

Insurance Plans

Employees can choose from a variety of health insurance plans and the government pays a substantial portion of the cost. Group-term life insurance and long-term care insurance plans are also available.

Transportation Subsidy

The Office of Chief Counsel will help pay for your public transportation commuting costs. Since 2002, those who commute via public transportation are eligible to receive a subsidy.

Allen R. Freedman

Allen R. Freedman became a tax lawyer at the Office of Chief Counsel after receiving his J.D. from University of Virginia. He left Chief Counsel for private industry where he became a leader in the New York venture capital industry.

He joined Potter, Inc. (now Axessent, Inc.) in the late 1970s and grew it into a major specialty insurer, with over 10,000 employees and $7 billion in revenues. He retired as Chairman and CEO in 2000. He has engineered scores of successful mergers, acquisitions, divestitures and several significant turnarounds. He is founding Director of the Association of Audit Committee Members, Inc. and was the first President of the New York Venture Capital Forum.

He has served on the Boards of StoneMar Partners LLP, Systems & Computer Technology, Inc., and INDUS International as well as several charitable organizations. He has been “Businessman in Residence” at the University of Wisconsin Business School and a guest lecturer at the Emory Institute.

Felix B. Laughlin

Felix B. Laughlin, co-chairman of the 50-lawyer tax department at Dewey Ballantine LLP, began his career in the Office of Chief Counsel. After serving in several positions within Chief Counsel, he practiced in Dewey Ballantine’s New York Office, and then, in 1974, opened the firm’s Washington, DC office. He is the senior tax controversy lawyer in his firm, and has represented major corporations in some of the most significant tax cases litigated in recent times.

In addition, he has been retained by the International Monetary Fund as a consultant on international legal reform, and has assisted the government of Indonesia in drafting its new guidelines for mergers and acquisitions. He is past chairman of the Federal Bar Association Tax Section.

Leaves Programs

The government-wide leave program allows you to donate your annual leave to federal employees in other agencies and to request the use of donated leave if you face a personal medical emergency. Absences due to maternity/paternity reasons are generally approved for periods between four and six months. An employee may use a combination of sick leave, annual leave and leave without pay to cover this absence.

Quality of Life

We believe that our attorneys’ quality of life is just as important as salary and benefits. We make that clear through the Quality of Life Program. This includes the provision of good work/life benefits, such as flexible work arrangements, on-site child care, and a full participation in the Washington, DC area’s cultural and recreational activities. We also believe that our attorneys are entitled to a balanced lifestyle that includes the time to devote to other interests and to enjoy travel, hobbies and sports.

Training & Continuing Legal Education

The Office of Chief Counsel has an annual multi-million dollar training program, with over 30 different course topics, that range from basic skills courses to graduate-level law school classes. Attorneys also regularly attend courses sponsored by bar associations, colleges and universities. Delivery methods include traditional classroom instruction, distance learning via satellite as well as video- and computer-based training.

State-of-the-Art Automation Support

Our attorneys have the advantage of a state-of-the-art automated information support system. Built over the years, this system provides each attorney with an up-to-date personal computer loaded with extensive software applications, many of which are customized to be user-friendly and to better support attorney needs.

This gives our attorneys more time for legal research and analysis which improves their effectiveness and efficiency. For example, extensive customized document preparation “macro” and easily accessible numerous legal research databases are readily available on each attorney’s desktop computer. Also, automated trial preparation support is used to prepare and try our more complicated cases and document intensive litigation.

Resources & Support Tools

The Office of Chief Counsel Library is one of the best Federal law libraries in the country. It contains the most extensive collection of materials (including legislative) in the country on Federal taxation. The Library provides top quality research librarians who provide sophisticated research services for our attorneys.

Employment Programs & Policies

The Office of Chief Counsel, IRS is an equal opportunity employer. Selection for positions will be based solely on merit without regard to race, color, religion, age, gender, national origin, political affiliation, disability, sexual orientation, marital or family status or other differences.

WORKING FOR THE OFFICE OF

Making a meaningful impact.

Working as an attorney for the Office of Chief Counsel offers a unique opportunity to serve the public interest by providing correct and impartial interpretation of the Federal tax laws without bias in favor of either the taxpayer or the government.

Work Environment

All of our attorneys have the opportunity to perform increasingly more responsible and independent work as rapidly as they can undertake it. For example, almost immediately Chief Counsel attorneys in our litigation offices are given their own docket of cases and the responsibility for handling them. Attorneys are assigned to field litigation offices or branches in the National Office, where they share ideas with their peers and managers. Being part of a larger organization also allows our attorneys to draw upon the experience and advice of field and National Office experts who have mastered particular areas of the law. We believe this exposure to highly seasoned, legal expertise is one of the most attractive aspects of employment with the Office of Chief Counsel.

Our goal is always to provide our attorneys a challenging and exciting work environment, to help them develop and sharpen their legal skills through training and work assignments, and to provide them the opportunity to further their careers in the Office of Chief Counsel. Through GS-14, our attorneys receive career promotions on the basis of their own performance and not on the basis of competition with someone else in the office. This helps foster an atmosphere of helpful cooperation. We fully support our attorneys’ professional development because our success depends upon their success. Chief Counsel not only provides an intellectually challenging and exciting work environment, but also one which recognizes the need to balance career and personal interests.

Programs within the Office of Chief Counsel

Attorneys work for one of 13 major Counsel organizations, based on their particular interest, qualifications and the staffing needs of the Office. Their work is focused on the particular office’s area of responsibility, such as criminal tax, corporate or international tax, pass-through entities, financial products, retirement plans, etc. Together, field and National Office attorneys strive to develop and apply basic principles and rules of the interpretation, application and enforcement of the Federal tax laws. Whether attorneys are in a field office or National Office position, they receive substantial and thorough training and responsibility.

NATIONAL OFFICE IN WASHINGTON, DC

Corporate

The Associate Chief Counsel, Corporate, employs approximately 65 attorneys who work in the National Office in Washington, DC. These attorneys provide published guidance, field support and taxpayer advice on tax matters involving corporate organizations, reorganizations, liquidations, spin-offs, transfers to controlled corporations, distributions to shareholders, debt vs. equity determinations, bankruptcies and consolidated return issues affecting groups of affiliated corporations among other matters.

Financial Institutions & Products

The Associate Chief Counsel, Financial Institutions and Products, employs approximately 50 attorneys who work in the National Office in Washington, DC and provide published guidance, field support and taxpayer advice on tax matters involving financial institutions and financial products. These financial institutions and products include banks, thrift institutions, insurance companies, regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts, asset securitization arrangements, life insurance contracts, annuities, options, forward contracts, futures contracts, notional principal contracts, original issue discount obligations, hybrid instruments, hedging arrangements and other types of innovative financial arrangements and transactions.

Income Tax & Accounting

The Associate Chief Counsel, Income Tax and Accounting, employs just over 100 attorneys who work in the National Office in Washington, DC. Income Tax and Accounting attorneys provide published guidance, field support and taxpayer advice on tax matters involving recognition and timing of income and deductions by individuals and corporations, sales and exchanges, capital gains and losses, accounting methods and periods, installment sales, long-term contracts, inventories and alternative minimum tax.

International

The Associate Chief Counsel, International, employs approximately 110 attorneys, the majority of whom work in the National Office in Washington, DC. Others work on the west coast at a branch office of International’s Advance Pricing Agreement program. handling litigation in the U.S. Tax Court and referring and recommending litigation to the Department of Justice.

Small Business/Self-Employed (SB/SE)

Small Business/Self-Employed is the largest Chief Counsel division, with 440 attorneys assigned to 49 field offices. These attorneys work directly with IRS field agents providing legal advice on tax cases involving individuals and small businesses, and on all cases involving collection and bankruptcy issues. When these cases go to trial, SB/SE attorneys are the IRS litigators, with direct responsibility for identifying the desired legal theories, developing the trial strategies and representing the IRS in court.

SB/SE attorneys typically spend most of their time handling Tax Court and bankruptcy cases. Over 90 percent of the 15,000 Tax Court cases filed each year are assigned to SB/SE attorneys. In most field offices, bankruptcy cases are assigned to attorneys who are designated as Special Assistant U.S. Attorneys. Attorneys may also be assigned to avoid the Department of Justice in the handling of collection, refund and other cases in the U.S. District Courts. Through client support and litigation, SB/SE attorneys have an opportunity to further their knowledge of tax law and to develop expertise on a wide variety of complex technical, procedural and tax issues.
